

The most successful companies are those who invest in their people. Training is an absolute necessity that pays for itself many times over in improved performance and results. The Compass series was designed for organizations that recognize the enormous capability of their employees and are willing to invest in their development. The combination of subject matter in the series was carefully selected to represent the most important topics in employee development.

As you attend the Compass series you will develop knowledge and skills that will significantly increase your personal effectiveness and ability to successfully lead others. You will develop habits of success that will make you a more capable person as well as a valuable employee.

Chris Tapken
Consultant, Author,
Speaker, Trainer

Chris Tapken has positively impacted the management of people and companies across the country. An energetic and motivational speaker and insightful business consultant, Chris is praised by his family, friends, and clients as compassionate, innovative, and hands on.

An engaging communicator, Chris has an unique gift to speak from the heart. He takes complex concepts and breaks them down into simple principles using a conversational and motivational style. You will leave this speech or seminar On Fire!

Chris Tapken owns Greenlight Solutions which helps companies or organizations to reach maximum potential by improving their focus, structure, processes, and the people who make them work. Chris has been involved with business start ups, corporate acquisitions, and even navigated a corporate bankruptcy. Let Greenlight Solutions put this wealth of real world experience toward helping your business truly prosper.

Each workshop lasts three to four hours and consists of a mixture of lecture and, more importantly, high energy and interactive exercises to help you internalize the principles and apply the lessons to your workplace experience. Meeting monthly will give you the opportunity to practice the concepts before moving on to the next workshop.

We look forward to your participation in the series and encourage you to take full advantage of this opportunity.
